ABOUT ME

Line Producer and Production manager since 2010, I had many experiences in different countries and continents: United States, Africa, Canada, and Europe. Making this job require a great adaptability. Scouting, developing a whole budget during the Pre-Production, making the choice between different partners, different locations during the prep, Foreign team management, talent management (including agents and lawyers), cost reports and budget tracking, all these skills are essential to be a good line producer and to work with international teams.
